Join as a member to be a part of our story and our future, and enjoy some fantastic benefits that bring you closer to our work.

For over 140 years we've been leading the way, changing the theatrical landscape and making truly great theatre. We present pioneering bold work, champion marginalised voices on our stage and tell untold stories inspired by our unique East London community.

Community matters at Stratford East, it always has. Each year we provide hundreds of people opportunities to learn, grow and connect, and support the next generation of artists. We vitally need our circle of supporters, so that together we can continue to build a fierce future for Stratford East.

"Good theatre draws the energies out of the place where it is and gives it back" - Joan Littlewood

Joan Littlewood, founder of Theatre Workshop, set up a permanent home for the company at Stratford East in 1953. Her work broke down conventional barriers, changing theatre to reflect the struggles of East Londoners like 'Fings Ain't Wot They Used T'Be' and 'Oh, What a Lovely War!'.
