

How to upload your self-tape to YouTube

These instructions follow the steps to upload your self-tape video through the YouTube app using a smartphone or tablet. Make sure you record your video in a quiet, well-lit space to ensure the best video quality. Your self-tape should be no longer than two minutes and should be a published monologue that you feel best shows your abilities. If you have any questions, please email getinvolved@stratfordeast.com

1. Download the YouTube app if you do not already have the app on your phone or device

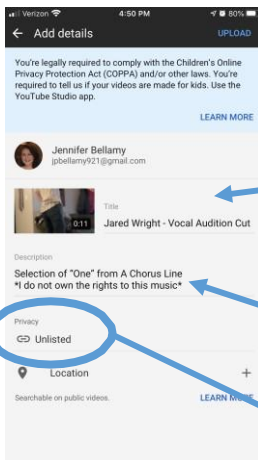

2. Open the app and select the “video camera” icon on the top menu bar

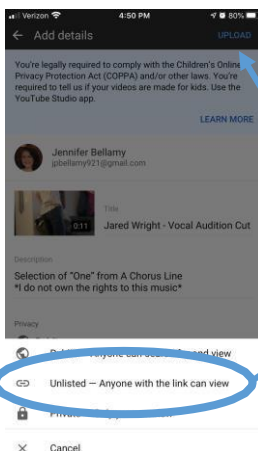

3. You may either record your video now by selecting “record” or choose a previously recorded video from your library. The most recent videos in your library will appear near the top.

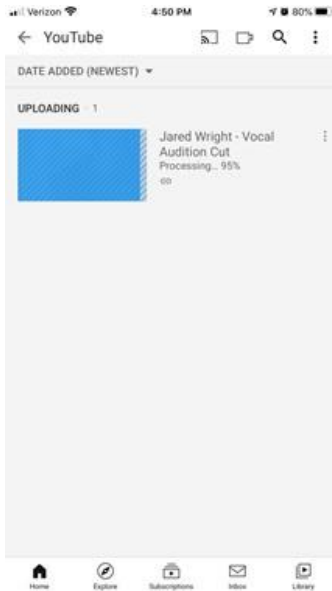

4. Once you have recorded or selected your video, this screen will appear to give you the option to trim the video. If you don't need to trim, hit "next."

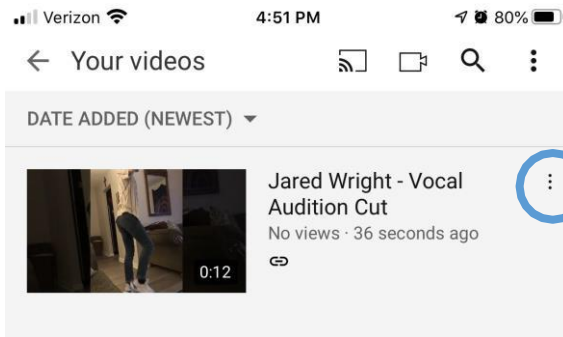

5. Title your video with your name and include the monologue title in the "description" bar.

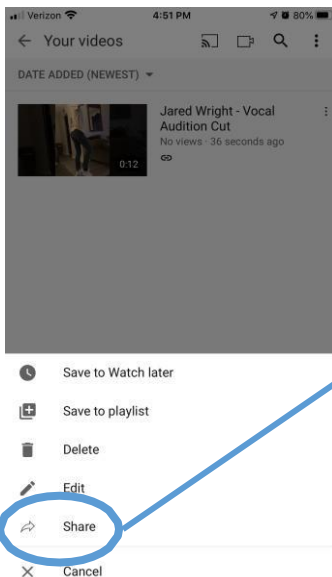

6. Tap the "privacy" bar to pull up the menu. Choose "unlisted" to ensure that your video is ONLY viewable by link. Then, click "upload"

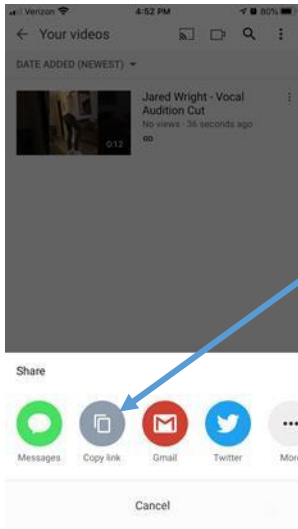

7. Your video will begin to upload. Stay on this screen to ensure it loads successfully. (If loading fails, give it another try. Also, check your internet connectivity.)

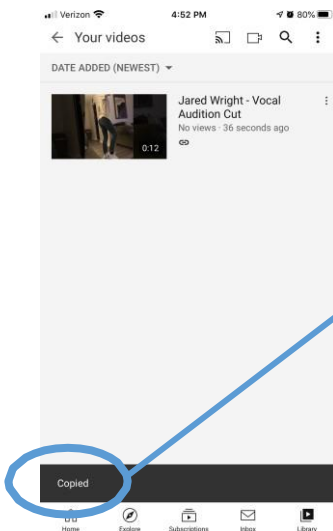

7. Once your video is uploaded, select the three dots next to the video to bring up the menu.

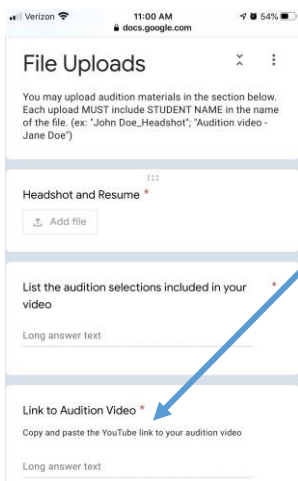

8. Tap the “share” on the menu to bring up the next menu of sharing options.

7. Select “copy link” to copy the link to your video.

8. The screen will then show that it has been copied successfully.

9. When filling out your application form, paste the copied link into this question.

10. You did it!
